With Almost 10K Licenses, Malaysia's Ministry of Home Affairs Makes a Home with Zimbra

KEMENTERIAN DALAM NEGERI

"We've been using Zimbra from day one. Zimbra is easy to use, convenient and stable. It's very handy for users who are always on the move and require constant reminders of their daily calendar appointments."

Mr. Ku Aznal
Head of Technical & Infrastructure ICT Division
MOHA, Malaysia

Kementerian Dalam Negeri (KDN) is Malaysia's Ministry of Home Affairs (MOHA) has used Zimbra from day one. They picked Zimbra for many reasons including …

- Licensing flexibility
- Open source approach
- Security features
- Happy users

Licensing Flexibility & Open Source Approach

MOHA has 9,100 employees. With Zimbra's flexible licensing options, they have 1500 employees using Zimbra Network Edition and 7600 employees using Zimbra Standard Edition. Zimbra's Network Edition includes ActiveSync for mobile users, Outlook for Windows (MAPI), Archiving and Discovery and other features that most of their employees don't need. This provides the Ministry with great savings.

MOHA also uses Zimbra's Open Source Edition to maximize their yearly OPEX financial savings. All Open Source Edition mailboxes are free!

Security Features

Security and privacy are top concerns for MOHA. They use Zimbra's two-factor authentication (2FA) and S/MIME end-to-end encryption features. They also have their own internal anti-spam, antivirus, firewall and data loss prevention (DLP) systems in place for security compliance. MOHA has integrated their anti-spam and DLP systems directly into Zimbra with Zimbra's APIs — maximizing Zimbra's interoperability options.

Happy Users

MOHA's users are very happy with Zimbra's ease of use, mobile access and stability.

They are also enjoying some Zimlets (Zimbra's built-in mash up apps):

- Email Attacher: Warns users if they forget to include an email attachment
- Search Highlighter: Highlights search terms so they're easy to see
- Attach Contacts: Easily attach contacts in vCard (.vcf) format from Address Book
